Our Ticket.

We have placed before the republican electorate of Maui a good strong working republican ticket which has a reasonable hope of success at the coming election. No name was placed on the ticket which had not received the direct approval of the precinct primaries of the district from which the candidate was named. Many of them had to be coaxed and urged before consenting to run, and if there is any dissatisfaction among the republican voters of Maui we have not heard of it.

A Honolulu publication has seen fit to unfavorably criticize the nominees of the third representative district, but why should the republican electorate on Maui select such nominees as may favorably impress this whimsical Honolulu paper.

The party committee men did their duty according to our lights in nominating the men indicated by the precinct primaries of September 2nd as the choice of the republican electorate of each district.

The convention was held at Honolulu, September 24th, 1904.

Baldwin, W. F. Pogue, George O. Cooper, J. W. Kalua and others who knew of the difficulties ahead and the feelings of the electorate and selected the nominees with a view towards winning the November elections.

Perhaps the real objection of our Honolulu friends to the personnel of our ticket arises from the fact that there are too many aggressive Maui men among them. Men who would look out for Maui's interest first, and not permit Honolulu to grab the lion's share in public improvement appropriations at the expense of Maui in the coming legislature. This is the real sore spot where the Maui republican ticket will hurt our Honolulu friends.

Our Candidates

The P. C. Advertiser seems to be very much dissatisfied with the make up of some of the Oahu Republican candidates for the Lower House, especially with those from the fifth district. We are personally acquainted with the majority of those candidates. James Shaw, Sol. Mahelona, Sol. Kalelopu, Chas. Broad and Oscar Cox: By reputation we have been told that the sixth candidate, Thos. Kalawaia, is a bright intelligent Hawaiian, and his district is not only proud of him, but are almost unanimous in his favor. The first five candidates we have personally known for years and we can therefore vouch for their fitness as legislators. It may be because they were all Hawaiians that they are regarded with a certain degree of disfavor in some quarters. The Maui republican ticket for the House of Representatives is composed entirely of bright, intelligent, progressive, and capable young Hawaiians, and Maui, Molokai and Lanai are proud of their choice. No one here raises the race question. Many of the whites were urged to run, but all of them to a man declined the honor. Now would it have been wise for the Maui District Convention which sat at Lahaina the early part of this month to nominate only three Hawaiians on the ticket, and leave the other three to be chosen by Home Rulers and Democrats because Maui, Molokai, Lanai, and Kahoolawe could not induce three white men to run on the ticket? You will all with one acclaim say: that would have been the height of folly! And so say we. Now it seems to us that some of the outer precincts of the 5th. District on Oahu were similarly situated, and the next wisest thing to do was to put up the next best available man. The aim of the Republican party is, first and foremost, to elect a republican to Congress.

from each party is impolitic, foolish nonsense, and equivalent to throwing away your voting privilege. For no matter how good a man may be on the opposite ticket, it would be his policy when elected to vote against all good Republican measures, because the Republican party would then be humiliated in both Houses, and his particular political creed will rise in the estimation of the voters. The same is true of the so-called first-class material, if any, on the opposite ticket on Maui. These will do their utmost to block in the legislature all good Republican measures, as it would be in their best interests to pass Home Rule measures, County Bill, etc. for they received their main support from the Home Rulers whom only they hope to satisfy at all times; and those Republicans who intend to cast a split ballot will surely reap a whirlwind of nothingness, and the whole Republican party will suffer from such impolitic, fool-hardy, and disastrous course. Are there any who will be so foolish so to split their ballot? Impossible! God forbid. Republicans are all intelligent men. Pause a while before you cast one vote for a Democrat or Home Ruler, or even that funny combination known in our politics as Democratic Home Rulers, a fusion so extraordinary in its composition that they belong to a sect peculiar to themselves, and somewhat resembles a cross between a leopard and a zebra.

A great many other questions of similar importance will be taken up, and it is up to the voters of Maui to say whether or no they desire to be benefitted. The executive has expressed its willingness to meet us halfway, and if the people of Maui are really anxious to have accomplished longed for improvements they should accordingly. There is no expecting that if others than Republicans are elected they would go to Honolulu with the idea of working in harmony with the executive. They will be antagonistic to every measure proposed by Republicans or by a Republican administration. That was the experience in 1901. Let Maui send Republicans to the Legislature and they, working together with the executive can accomplish a great deal for the benefit of Maui. Let Maui show its appreciation of the executive's efforts in its behalf by electing a Republican Delegate to Congress, and Republican Senators and Representative to the Territorial Legislature.

MOLOKAI NEWS

The old Halawa bridge which was washed away by the freshet caused by a cloud burst, a few months back, was replaced by a new one which was finished in a week's time. The Halawa people are thankful to the Superintendent of the Public Works for the prompt attention given to this work. The work was superintended by Morse, the head carpenter of the Public Works Department.

Vote for the Straight Republican Ticket if you want new bridges.

Wednesday September 7 James Morse of the Public Works Department and his assistant came over from Halawa and did the work on the Pukoo. The first pile was driven Saturday morning September 10th and by Thursday the pile was down to a distance of 100 feet from shore. James Morse says that with good weather the wharf will be finished in five weeks.

If you need new wharves, Vote for the Straight Republican Ticket and you will get it.

The Molokai Home Rulers and Democrats do not know where they are, after the action of the Home Rule Convention. Whether they were transferred to the Agona, or in the Refrigerator frozen out. The fusionists carried the day, yet they forgot to give Molokai a representative on the ticket.

Ain't it a shame, a beastly shame to leave your money out in the street? Molokai, wake up and vote for the Straight Republican Ticket. The Republican party is the only square party that nominates one of the Molokai's own sons to represent you in campaign.

It is true the Executive is Republican backed up by a Republican administration and in a legislature, it will look to the Republican party for support in any measure which it may wish to have carried through.

There are many questions of vital interest to the people of Maui which will be brought up at the coming session. Of chief interest will be that concerning our roads. A great many of them need to be regraded, some need to be widened, some need repairs, a few bridges have to be put up, all need money.

Our public buildings will be discussed a 75,000 dollar public building, for instance will be needed; a few more school houses may be called for.

The idea of setting aside the income from some public lands for a school fund will probably be referred to the Legislature; then there is also the idea of requesting Congress to help us by appropriating money enough to maintain a place at Kalaupapa for scientific study of leprosy and discover a cure for this dread disease. The Homestead ideas will be brought forward, and a law will have to be enacted enabling homesteaders to get credit for any work performed on a road leading to his place is called for by section X of our platform.

A great many other questions of similar importance will be taken up, and it is up to the voters of Maui to say whether or no they desire to be benefitted. The executive has expressed its willingness to meet us halfway, and if the people of Maui are really anxious to have accomplished longed for improvements they should accordingly. There is no expecting that if others

CAMPAIGN NOTES

It is reported that the Democrats of Maui intend to put up a straight Democratic ticket with Thos. Clark and James L. Coke as senatorial nominees.

Some of the dissatisfied ones say that Col. John Richardson, fusion nominee for the lower House intends to withdraw as he does not like the idea of running on a same ticket with White.

Geo. O. Cooper, the "Mark H. Na" of the Maui Republicans, has gone out of the Territory to fire the gun of the Republican campaign.

It is generally understood that Waiuku Democrat-Home Ruler intend to scratch the name Bill White because Oily B. Lahaina to be the County because Oily Bill is agitated with the Democrats. White is alleged to be out with a big his political partner Coke. Coke likewise has his little hatred out for White.

Candidate Notley's idea of settling labor troubles by the simple method of passing a law, is on a par with Simple Simon's plan of catching a bird by putting a little salt on its tail.

We have it on good authority that the Democrat-Home Ruler campaign committee was so badly demoralized because Oily White broke the machine that it will take all of another week for the warring elements to be reconciled—if at all.
